

I am writing to comment on the possibility of your giving priority to Low Power FM(LPFM) over current FM translator services. I would be greatly effected by this simply in the loss of my wife and my favorite radio station, K-Love. I can think of hundreds of people in my city alone who would be saddened if K-Love was displaced by an LPFM broadcaster. We, along with MANY of our friends, listen to K-Love every day, everytime we get in our cars, and every morning when we wake up(our alarms are set to hear K-Love). K-Love's broadcasting is in the public interest, and should be kept on the air. Not only do they provide great music, they are encouraging to listen to. You can get the news in a family friendly way. You don't have to worry about making sure the kids don't hear anything bad, things like that just aren't heard on K-Love stations. Not that they convey the news in a non-newsworthy way, it just is done in such a way, the whole can listen without the possibilty of hearing about it so graphically that kids shouldn't be listening. Thank you for your time. Sincerely, Matthew Souder
